

Getting The Most Out of Church Online

Facebook Live | www.facebook.com/FaithBaptistAdrian/

Many of you will watch a streaming worship service for the first time this weekend. We are thankful for the technology to stream our worship service into your home, but watching a worship service online is a very different experience than being in a worship service. Here are some tips to help you get the most out of online worship at Faith Baptist Church during this time when we cannot be together.

1. Make the Worship Service a Priority

One of the most difficult aspects of watching a worship service at home is all the distractions that you will encounter. We suggest the following practices to minimize distractions and maximize your spiritual growth:

- Gather your family and watch together when the service begins at 10:30 am.
- If you have the ability, watch the service on your television, the bigger the better!
- If you're not watching on your phone, be sure to leave your phone in another room so you can fully focus on the worship service (notifications will still be there after the service).
- We will provide a time to focus on worship by giving your offering during the online service. Please use our online giving platform to show your gratitude for God's provision and to support the ongoing ministries and missionaries of Faith Baptist Church. We will add a link to our online giving in the Facebook comments.

2. Engage With Each Other Digitally

We long for connection to one another, here is how you can connect online:

- If you're watching on Facebook Live, be sure to say hello before the service begins. The broadcast will begin at 10:25 am, so use this time to chat with one another just as you would use this time if we were gathering together in our building.
- Be sure to like and share our worship service. Consider hosting a watch party. By doing this, your friends and family can see what you're watching and those who would never visit the church may actually join you and hear the gospel.

3. Worship, Don't Just Watch

Make your online worship a spiritual time of growth, encouragement and renewal.

- Sing with our worship team, pray, follow along in your Bible, and take notes.
- Respond to what you've seen at the end of the service and talk to your family about what they learned.
